COURSE SYLLABUS

Course Description
Prerequisite: Consent of instructor

To provide instruction, in a one-on-one setting, that furthers the percussion student in their musical, technical, and professional development. Etudes, exercises, and solo literature appropriate to the area of percussion study will be prepared throughout the semester of study. Progress will be verbally evaluated weekly and recorded in the students' personal files. Students are required to keep a Performance Journal that provides insight into the daily and weekly discovery process involved with the private lesson experience. The Performance Journal will be reviewed weekly during the lesson time. Failure to provide this documentation will result in the deduction of 10 points from the earned lesson grade for the week. As well, the student will research all assigned material and provide Performance Notes for all solo works presented during Performance Class, Student Recital, and for jury materials; students should use the format of the Performance Notes (described below). Failure to provide this documentation will result in the deduction of one letter grade, per work, from the jury grade. All percussion majors and minors will be required to perform a jury at the end of each semester.

Course Objectives

1) Through lesson assignments, private practice, and studio class/jury performance, students will demonstrate the required technical facilities to meet the needs of artistic expression specific to the instruments studied including: orchestral percussion (snare drum, timpani and accessories), keyboards (two and four mallets), and drumset.
2) Through textbook, etude and solo study, students will be familiar with a thorough cross-section of pedagogical and solo literature in all areas of percussion.
3) Through literature study and performance, students will demonstrate the practical application of theory and aural skills on their performance instrument.
4) Through regular solo/ensemble rehearsal and performance, students will demonstrate a working ability to sight-read on all percussion instruments.
5) Through studio class, jury, continuation and recital performance, students will demonstrate the physical and mental skills needed to successfully perform in front of an audience.
6) Through studio class performance and discussion, students will demonstrate the ability to recognize, evaluate, and correct common percussion performance problems.
7) Through studio classes, website reviews, and guest artist visits, students will be aware of new and innovative techniques, literature, the percussion industry, professional artists in the field, and the Percussive Arts Society on a national and worldwide scale.
Course Materials
Students must purchase the literature and equipment recommended by the instructor for use within the semester of private study. Percussion majors are also required to be a current member of the Percussive Arts Society during the semester of private study; membership must be current within two weeks of the beginning of the semester. Students must own original copies of all jury materials. Failure to meet these requirements will result in an Incomplete for the course.

Attendance Policy
Make-up lessons will be scheduled when the professor is unable to make the assigned lesson time. Students may only reschedule lessons in the event of death in the immediate family, serious illness, or other university approved excuse. Students are also required to attend all on-campus percussion events (degree recitals, concerts, clinics, master classes, etc.). Additionally, students are required to attend and any on-campus event involving a member of the percussion faculty.

Performance Journal
Students are required to keep a journal that reflects their thoughts on the lesson material, the practice experience, the discovery process, the research process, and any other insight that comes through the course of the private study experience. The journal can be in digital or handwritten format and should be written from a “stream of consciousness” perspective. Grammar, sentence construction, and spelling are not considered in the evaluation of this document. The purpose of this journal is to have the student reflect on the experience and have a record of personal progress.

Performance Notes
Students are required to research and compile performance notes for all Performance Class presentations and Juries. This work is to be submitted at the time of performance. However, as it will help to provide valuable information and insight into the preparation of the work, the student is encouraged to begin research when new assignments are received. The information needed for the Performance Notes is as follows:

Title of the Work and year of composition
Composer (birth and death dates)
Publisher

Information on the Work
Information on the Composer

Juries
BA, BM, BME, and Percussion Minors will take a performance examination at the end of the semester to determine the progress for the semester of study; this is known as a Jury. The performance examination will consist of prepared material, as designated by the instructor, scales*,†, and sight-reading on snare drum and two-mallet marimba.

The breakdown for the jury grade will be as follows:
Prepared Materials:  50%  Sight-Reading:  25%  Scales:  25%
