Course Objective:
This course is intended to develop bassoon technique and musicianship that will be applicable to both bassoon performance and pedagogy; students must prepare assignments in advance of every lesson. Students will learn and apply different practice techniques towards fundamentals, etudes, solo repertoire, and orchestral excerpts. In addition to attending all lessons and seminars with the appropriate materials, students will perform a jury and/or recital, attend a minimum of twelve classical music concerts, establish goals, and write a self-evaluation at the end of the semester.

Course Grades:
Lessons 35%
Seminars 25%
Jury and/or Recital 20%
Concert Attendance 10%
Required Materials 5%
Goals/Self-Evaluation 5%

Lessons:
Each student is expected to attend every lesson. The only acceptable excuses are illness (a "verifiable" medical note from a physician is required,) family emergency, or pre-approved academic conflict, e.g. an exam or field trip in your major area of study. Academic conflicts must be cleared in advance.

Seminars:
Students must bring new reeds to every seminar so there can be a discussion about the reed making process.

Jury and/or Recital:
At the end of every semester, students must perform a jury for the woodwind faculty. The jury will consist of scales, etudes, excerpts, and solo repertoire. Juries will be tailored to the level of playing appropriate for each student. Students will know the specifics of their jury assignment weeks before the jury. See your student handbook for details concerning juries and continuation examinations.

Concert Attendance:
Students are required to attend at least twelve (12) concerts each semester. These concerts must be in the vein of classical music. Students must turn in a review of the event with the event program attached.

Required Materials:
Students are responsible for acquiring a metronome, tuner, reed making tools, etude books, solo repertoire and bringing these materials to every lesson.

Goals/Self Evaluation:
Students will set goals at the beginning of the semester and reflect on those goals in a self evaluation at the end of each semester.
