Dear Educator,

I am happy to invite you and your students to the inaugural Iowa State University Trumpet Summit. The Summit will be held at the ISU Music Hall in the Martha-Ellen Tye Recital Hall on November 4, 2017. The goal for this summit is to feature a diverse array of trumpet artists in an exchange of musicianship, intended to entertain, inspire, and educate.

The summit is arranged to be a day of all things trumpet, and will include solo trumpet performances, electro acoustic trumpet solos, trumpet and organ performances, master class presentations, pedagogy discussions, trumpet ensemble performances, and jazz. Tickets will go on sale starting at 11:00 AM on November 4, and doors will open at 1:00 PM.

As with everything these days, there has to be a nominal admission cost associated with this event. Tickets will be $10.00 dollars for adults and $5.00 for students. This one-time admission will give you and your students access to all of the events, and 100% of the money will be used to cover transportation costs, commissions of new music, and accompanists.

I hope to see you and your students at the ISU Trumpet Summit! Visit the ISU Department of Music Webpage, https://www.music.iastate.edu, for additional information and updates. More specific programming information will be available in early October. Feel free to email me if you have questions regarding the Summit, and please hold November 4 on your calendar.

Sincerely,

Jim Bovinette
Dr. James Bovinette
Associate Professor of Music
Professor of Trumpet and Jazz
ISU Jazz Program Director
Brass Division Chair
Iowa State University
515-451-1122
trptboy@iastate.edu