Music 384
History of Music: Pre-Classic through Modern

Instructor: Dr. Jonathan Sturm
Office: Music 211
Phone: 4-7399
E-mail: jsturm@iastate.edu
Office Hours: MWF: 11a.m. - noon, or by appointment

Prerequisite: Music 383 or consent of instructor

Required Textbooks:
Sturm class notes and anthology package. (Available via Canvas)

Grading:
The grading for this course will be based upon the following criteria.
- 3 listening ID quizzes: 15% (5% each)
- 2 tests (including listening and factual ID) 30% (15% each)
- Midterm/final examinations (cumulative over each semester half*): 45%
- Class attendance and participation: 10%

*NOTE: The Final may have SOME cumulative material over the entire year. All cumulative material will be specifically mentioned with advance notice.

Tests and quizzes will be made up only at the discretion of the instructor. It may be possible for a missed evaluation such as a quiz to cause the next test to include the percentage of the missed quiz. Example: you miss one quiz worth 5% of your grade. The next test covering similar material will add that percentage in, thus accounting for all the percentage points with less hassle about make-up time.

I will do my best to accommodate any student with a disability who needs extra test time, or special test taking environments. I need to be told these things in advance so I can prepare for them, however, so please alert me to special needs in advance of quizzes or tests, or submit a student accessibility request.

At successful completion of Music 384, students will be able to identify by ear and by score a selection of important common practice period compositions and to place them correctly into the principal subdivisions of each era of Western classical music history (early, middle or late sections of each era) ranging from 1750 to the present. They will be able to define terms relevant to each era, and correctly place composers within their appropriate era subdivision along with facts pertaining to each composer and his/her style. They will be able to write about trends, including the evolution of chromatic harmony, the symphony, opera, 12-tone serialism and aleatory music, along with other principal trends and styles of these centuries. They will also be able to link trends in common practice music to concurrent trends in art and theater.

FINAL EXAM
POLICIES

Attendance

Attendance is critical to understanding the material for this course. Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes and exams according to the college calendar. Missing scheduled classes and exams due to personal travel plans is not a college approved excuse and will result in missing any points allocated for those days. Additionally, if a student misses six (6) class periods in one semester without a university/faculty-approved excuse, he/she will lose one letter grade from the earned GPA in the course per class missed over #6 until the course cannot be passed.

Classroom Disruption

At the discretion of the instructor, disruptive conduct includes a single serious incident or persistent conduct that unreasonably interrupts, impedes, obstructs, and/or interferes with the educational process. Disruptive conduct may be physical and/or expressive in nature and may occur in person or in a virtual setting. Examples of disruptive conduct may include, but are not limited to, the following: speaking without being recognized, interrupting, or talking over others; arrival to class late or leaving early without instructor permission; the use of technology, such as cell phones, computers, or other devices, without instructor permission, particularly in uses unrelated to course content; creation of loud or distracting noises either carelessly or with intent to disrupt; eating, sleeping, or carrying out other personal activities in class that are unrelated to course content without instructor permission; non-protected malicious or harassing or bullying speech or actions directed at instructors or students, such as personal insults, ad hominem attacks, name-calling, other abusive or ridiculing comments, or threats; gratuitous use of cursing/expletives or other speech that is not relevant to class discussion; inappropriate physical contact or threats of inappropriate physical contact directed at instructors or students; refusal to comply with instructor’s request for appropriate conduct.

If you are attending online, I request that you listen with your device’s video camera on, but muted unless you have a question.

Cell phone use is prohibited in class. Students who text, check emails or messages, or otherwise use cell phones during class will be asked to leave the room for the day. Additionally, I respectfully ask that students with computers use them exclusively for note taking and not web browsing or social media during class.

COVID-19 health and safety requirements

Students are responsible for abiding by the university’s COVID-19 health and safety expectations. All students attending this class in-person are required to:

- properly wear a face covering and/or face shield, covering the nose and mouth, while in classrooms, laboratories, studios, offices, and other learning spaces. It is important to remember that a face covering and/or face shield is required to be worn whenever you are on campus, in the presence of others, and unable to maintain physical distance;
- practice physical distancing to the extent possible;
- assist in maintaining a clean and sanitary environment;
- not attend class if you are sick or experiencing symptoms of COVID-19;
- not attend class if you have been told to self-isolate or quarantine by a health official.
- follow the faculty member’s guidance with respect to these requirements.

Failure to comply constitutes disruptive classroom conduct. Faculty and teaching assistants have the authority to deny a non-compliant student entry into a classroom, laboratory, studio, conference room, office, or other learning space. These requirements extend outside of scheduled class time, including coursework in laboratories, studios, and other learning spaces, and to field trips. These requirements may be revised by the university at any time during the semester.

Academic Dishonesty

This class will follow Iowa State University’s policy on academic dishonesty. Iowa State University expects that students will adhere to accepted standards of academic integrity. If plagiarism or cheating occurs in this course, the student caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero on that assignment. A second occurrence will result in failure of the class. Additionally, anyone suspected of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Dean of Students Office.
